PERFECTLY FITTED

Jamie Beckwith's collection of wood surfaces includes a new line of white-oak wall and floor tiles by Los Angeles-based designer Windsor Smith. The array consists of, clockwise from top left, Nailed It, a studded square exclusively for walls; Hot to Trot, made of interlocking I shapes; Zip It!, composed of notched planks; Windsor Stitch, a classic chevron; and Color Blocked, a modern take on a trompe l'oeil parquet. Each comes in a variety of colorways and finishes. Prices range from $45 to $59 per square foot.

ON THE BALL

French interior designer India Mahdavi's love of circular forms led her to fashion the Bubbles collection of doorknobs and pulls for Maison Vervloet, a 111-year-old Belgian firm known for its luxurious hardware. The lever handle, set on a 6.5" dia. plate, is $325; custom sizes are available. Brass, shown, is one of 14 finishes. vervloet.com

SUPER SOAKER

Laura Kirar's new line of sleekly modern bathroom fixtures and furnishings for Kallista includes a freestanding bathtub made from cast stone with a glossy finish. Measuring 64" l. x 34" w. x 25" h., it's large enough for two bathers, and the center drain is made of brass. It costs $5,895.
